DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to communications: Amendment A, filed 20 January 2005.
2. Claims 1-3 are pending.
3. Claims 4-6 have been cancelled.

Specification

1. Applicant indicates in the arguments filed 20 January 2005 that US patent number 5,766,622 was incorporated by reference in the original as-filed application. The attempt to incorporate subject matter into this application by reference to US patent number 5,766,622 is however improper because mere reference to another application, patent or publication is not an incorporation of anything therein into the application containing such reference for the purpose of the disclosure required by 35 U.S.C 112, first paragraph. In re de Seversky, 474 F.2d 671, 177 USPQ 144 (CCPA 1973).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

2. Claims 1-3 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Baer, US patent number 5,011,701. The reference and rejection are incorporated as cited against claims 1-3 in the previous Office action mailed 29 October 2004.

Applicant's arguments filed 20 January 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. At pages 6 and 8 of the response, applicant states that the dietary fiber of Baer does not meet the limitations of the instant invention by not being amorphous, non-particulate, insoluble, non-coated or derived from the alkaline treatment of agricultural by-products. Additionally, on page 8 of the response that the lipid of Baer is not the same as the lipid as instantly claimed which is a fat and oil component. This is not deemed persuasive.

Art Unit: 1761

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., that the dietary fiber be non-particulate, amorphous, insoluble, non-coated, or derived from agricultural by-products) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Additionally, the lipid of Baer is interpreted to be a fat and oil component, as the difference is not apparent between the referenced lipid and one that is a component, since a lipid used as a component only requires the presence of the lipid, which the referenced lipid satisfies.

Response to Amendment

3. The amendment filed 20 January 2005 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows:

The sentences, which were added to the disclosure in the response filed 20 January 2005, that begin with:

“The dietary fiber gels are produced”, “Dietary fiber gels in a hydrated form”

“A physically smooth morphology”

These sentences introduce new matter regarding the production of the dietary fiber, its morphology and its physical state. Although applicant states that this matter can be added from US patent number 5,766,662; as noted above, US patent number 5,766,622 is not viewed to be incorporated by reference and therefore these amendments do introduce new matter.

Additionally, the sentence beginning “Without being bound...” that was added to the disclosure in the response filed 20 January 2005 is also new matter. This sentence introduces theories based on the information presented in US patent number 5,766,662. Since this sentence introduces information that is not present in US patent number 5,766,662, even if this patent is properly incorporated, this sentence would still be new matter.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-3 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 2 of copending Application No. 10/689267. The reference and rejection are incorporated as cited against claims 1-3 in the previous Office action mailed 29 October 2004. This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.

Applicant's arguments filed 22 December 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. At page 9 of the response, applicant states that Application No. 10/689267 is patentably distinct because it claims compositionally distinct foods. Applicant also states on page 10 that the Examiner offered no specific evidence that the inventions were not patentable distinct and states on page 11 that the ranges between the two applications are not similar.

It is submitted that Application 10/689267 does claim a food composition that would encompass the invention as instantly claimed. As stated on page 6 of the previous Office Action: "dressings and ice creams are both food products that are characterized by smooth, creamy oil like textures, that are viscous and fat containing, and both applications claim overlapping weight percentages that the emulsified liquid shortening is present in the foodstuffs.” The applicant has not currently argued against these statements. The ‘267 application includes a claim directed to “creamy dressing”, applicant’s submission that dressings are “oil and vinegar based thick foods” is not seen to be reflected in these claims; and additionally it is submitted that a creamy dressing by nature would indeed have a cream base. There is nothing in the definitions provided that show that dressings are required to be oil and vinegar based, or that eliminate a cream and milk base. Additionally, a separate definition by The American Heritage® Dictionary of the English Language, Fourth Edition, defines a dressing as a “sauce for certain dishes”. Nothing in the provided definition of sauce, requires it to have an oil or vinegar base, or eliminates a cream and milk base. There is also nothing precluding the use of the dairy based products as instantly claimed from being used as a sauce on a dish, for example, pie alamode. A creamy dressing therefore is interpreted to encompass the dairy products as instantly claimed. The frozen state of the dairy products does not add any patentable difference between the two applications, as dressings can be frozen, and the dairy products as instantly claimed be melted to a liquid state; additionally the state of the food product is not found to be supported by either applications’ set of claims. The ranges claimed in the ‘267 application encompasses the ranges as instantly claimed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1761
